

---

Title: “The Father and His Boy”

Setting: Jesus, Peter, James and John coming down from a high mountain. A crowd had gathered and a man brought his son to Jesus, “Please have mercy on my demon possessed son.” (Matthew 17:14-21)

Characters:

- Jesus (Compassionate and powerful)
  - Father (Desperate, tormented, and wrestling with unbelief)
  - Boy (Helpless, suffering, and longing for freedom)
-

Scene: The crowded marketplace.

(The father leads his son, trembling and foaming at the mouth, toward Jesus.)

Father: (to himself) Twelve years. Twelve long years of watching my son suffer, of feeling helpless. The boy’s symptoms—convulsions, foaming at the mouth, paralysis—have tormented him since childhood. The doctors couldn’t help; their diagnoses fell short.

(Jesus stands amidst curious onlookers.)

Jesus: (to His disciples) “Bring the boy to me.”

(The father approaches, desperation etched on his face.)

Father: “Teacher, I brought You my son. He has a mute spirit. It seizes him, throws him down, and tries to destroy him. Your disciples couldn’t cast it out.”

Jesus: (looking at the boy) “All things are possible to those who believe.”

Father: (teary-eyed) “Lord, I believe! Help my unbelief!”

(Jesus reaches out to touch the boy.)

Jesus: “Deaf and dumb spirit, I command you, come out of him and enter him no more!”

(The spirit convulses the boy, then leaves.)

Boy: (gasping) “Father, I can hear! I can speak!”

Father: (overwhelmed) “My son! You’re free!”

---

In this encounter, doubt meets faith, and compassion triumphs over torment. The father's cry echoes through the ages: "I believe! Help my unbelief!" Jesus responds with healing, revealing that even our faltering faith can move mountains. 🌞